

On air: the new Humana TV commercial

The new Humana TV commercial has been running since 27/10/2009. With its TV commercial Humana charmingly spotlights that children learn by experimenting. Their little discoveries make them “cleverer” by the day and encourage their intellectual and physical development too.

Despite all the uncertainties of the first stages parents and professionals can depend on Humana being there to help where a healthy diet for your little ones is concerned. Our range offers the right product for every need and every age. Certainly for your little explorer too.

Take part now and win!

Humana invites you – parents, family and professionals – to take part in the great Humana film and photo competition. At www.meinkleinerforscher.de you'll find a special page that's just waiting for your child's discoveries. Just take a look!
